International Workers Memorial Day (IWMD) on 28 April is our day to remember the dead and fight for the living.

This year's commemoration takes on a new importance as we remember those who have sadly died delivering vital care and services during the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

UNISON calls on all Employers to ensure that the working conditions are safe and that staff providing essential services in dangerous conditions are adequately equipped.

Our members need to know they are working in conditions which are:

- SAFE
- HEALTHY
- ADEQUATELY RESOURCED
